The England Coast Path – between Eastbourne and Camber

Natural England has started work on the England Coast Path – a new long-distance trail that will allow people to walk and have a right of access around the whole English coast, bringing benefits for local people and businesses.

Work to identify exactly where to align the England Coast Path between Eastbourne and Camber is just beginning.

Come and learn more about the project and share your views with us at these public drop-in sessions in your area. We look forward to seeing you there.
